SENIORS

COUGAR SPIRIT SHINES

Bottom: In the Cougar's "Den," we get a more relaxed view of the Cougar Spirit.

Let's Get Fired Up! As in years past, this year we Cougars were "pumped up" by our lunch time pep rallies. During the last five minutes of the lunch period, the band and the cheerleaders entered the Commons to play and cheer. These pep rallies encouraged crowd participation and helped build our Cougar spirit.

MEMORIES OF '91

DRAG RACES

Guys always say that girls have it easier than they do. But some of them found out that being a girl, or at least acting like one, is harder than they expected.

On May 31, 1991, ten of Courtland's well-known men dressed up as many different types of girls. Then they walked, ran, and rode out onto the stage, each hoping that "she" would be crowned Miss Courtland 1991. First each "lady" modeled "her" beautiful figure in the sports-wear competition. Next the "ladies" displayed their talents (or what talents they wished they had) in the talent competition. In the evening gown competition each "lady" displayed "her" luxurious gown. Finally, the "ladies" answered questions to test their poise. Entertainment was provided by Sara Patranc and The Escorts, a group that included Lynn Bishop (Indian); Angie Wall (football player); Carolyn Gagnon (construction worker); Christina Fariss (farmer); Cindy Walsh (army man); Bobbi Terry (cowboy); Jacii Tucker (Chippendale dancer); and Nicky Self (yuppie). At last the judges reached their decision. And the winner was.... Miss Behave (Justin Woodside). The SCA sponsored this great event that we all look forward to in '92.

THE AWARDS ASSEMBLY 1991

The Courtland High School Awards program was held on Friday, May 24, 1991, and was attended by students, staff, and parents of graduates. The purpose of this program was to honor '91 graduates with a variety of awards and scholarships from colleges, local organizations and agencies, and from various departments and clubs within CHS. Denise Collins was the recipient of numerous scholarships and awards including that of having the highest G.P.A. Lara Yaroszewski followed closely behind Denise. Other academic achievements were awarded to Kevin Lombard, Highest Math Grade; and Andrea Lanier, Highest Science Grade. Outstanding leadership awards were given to Lori Simms, SCA; Christina Fariss, Principal's Leadership Award; and Cindy Sizemore, DAR Good Citizenship Award. The PTSA Student of the Year Award was given to Denise Collins. Many local organizations, such as the American Legion, also awarded scholarships to Courtland students.

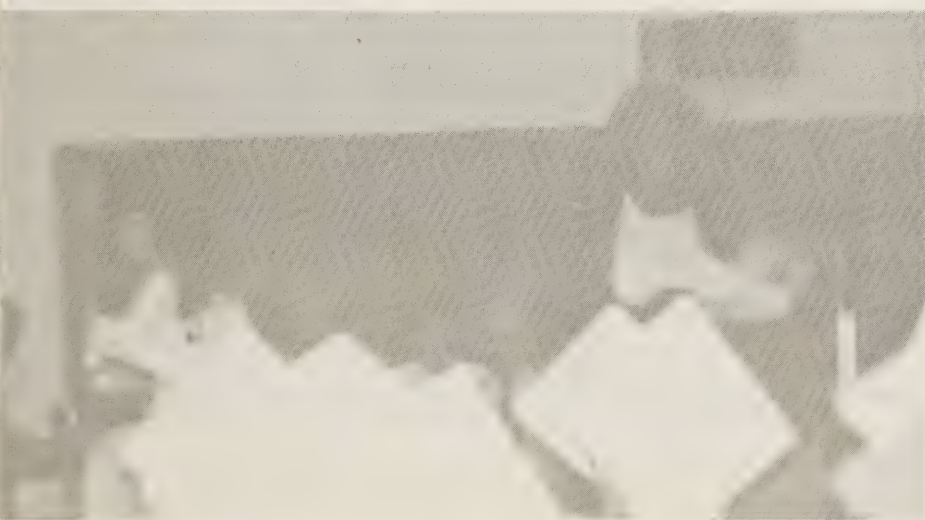

The PTSA Golden Apple Teacher of the Year Award was given to Suzan Mann. Mrs. Mann, an English teacher, is fully involved in student activities. She is the Cross Country coach, the Yearbook Advisor, as well as being a Natural Helper. Mrs. Mann shows she really cares about the students as much as the curriculum.

Top: The seniors await the announcement of the winners of awards.

Middle: The winners of scholarships from their prospective colleges or universities stand and receive praise from Mr. Noakes.

Bottom: Mrs. Mann receives the Teacher of the Year Award from PTSA co-chairperson, Mrs. Ester Wynder.

Kevin Schon and Cindy Walsh (front), and Lisa Stonebreaker and Kevin Dunn take a brief rest before getting back to the dance floor.

Stephanie Thomas, CHUCKIE
GIFFORD, KEVIN LOMBARD AND MICHELE
KUZMOVICH take time out to enjoy the refreshments provided by the Junior Class.

Jennifer Kzreminski and date enjoy the rhythm of a slow song while Mr. and Mrs. Mann find that it is more effective to chaperone from the dance floor.

Mrs. Richards and the Decorating Committee did a super job in building the castle--a memorable backdrop for the prom.

STAIRWAY TO HEAVEN

Jerry Runion, Mona Berry, and Valerie Johnson seem rather amused by Robbie Williams's "Spanish dancing." Uh, Robbie--it's supposed be a rose in the teeth!

On May 18, Courtland juniors and seniors and their dates could be seen strolling across the MWC campus en route to the College Ballroom, the site of the 1991 Junior/Senior Prom, sponsored by the Junior Class. Afterwards many attended the After Prom Party, "Beach Daze," sponsored by the P.T.S.A. and held at Courtland. Like corsages pressed in a book, memories of prom night will delight us forever.

Steve Buckner finds that, after a few dances, it sometimes becomes necessary to remove those heavy tux jackets.

Travis Maddy, Kim Wise, Renee Kuzmovich and Jason Burton take advantage of the slowed-down tempo. Now why does the dance floor always seem more populated during the slow songs?!

No one was really sure , but we knew...

They Came From

On May 9, 10, and 11, the Courtland High School Drama Department performed a two-act comedy entitled They Came From Somewhere. The plot revolves around the Livermans, a vacationing family who are trying to get home after a trip to Space Crater, a futuristic theme/amusement park. Their car breaks down, however, at the same time that a meteor crashes to the Earth near the town of Latigo. The play revolves around the misconception by the townspeople that the Liverman family are aliens.

Last year Courtland's graduation exercises were held on June fifteenth. Among the guests were Rev. Jack Reedy, who delivered the invocation, and guest speaker Rev. James Coleman. Sherika Wormley and Jeff Doucette also gave brief speeches before the presentation the Senior class. Graduates' names were read by assistant principals, Mrs. Wadsworth and Mr. Houck, and diplomas were distributed by Principal, Mr. Thomas Noakes. Class President, Janis Pohanka, turned the tassels. To conclude the memorable event, a benediction was given by Reverend Reedy, which was followed by a production of "The Sinfonians" by Courtland's Symphonic Band.

THOSE WERE THE DAYS WHEN...

Those were the days--the 70s. Most of our 1992 graduates were born in '73 or '74. On the following pages are pictures that take us back to those years, or just after. For a mini-history lesson, Nixon was inaugurated in January of '73 but resigned a year later due to the Watergate affair, and was succeeded by Gerald Ford. Other top stories of the decade were the Energy Crisis, the end of the Vietnam War, Skylab missions, the kidnapping of Patty Hearst, inflation, the disappearance of Jimmy Hoffa, and bell-bottoms--the favorite style.

Lunch--Or Fast Munch?

For most people, lunch is a time to sit down, relax, and enjoy a good meal. Students also view the lunch break as a time to finish homework and rest after a tiresome four periods. Others take advantage of the opportunity to freshen up make-up, fix hair, etc. But most of all, lunch is a time for uninhibited socializing. Unfortunately for some, though, this socializing has to take place while standing in line.

With the addition of nearly 300 new students this year, lunch lines are long! Some students wait in line for 15-20 minutes and then have to rush through lunch and hurry off to the next class. The "relaxing break" turns into a race against the clock.

Carol Pifer finds her lunchtime conversation with Ellen Kamilakis and Thursday Mutter quite amusing. Inset: Renee Kuzmovich finishes "the healthy choice" while Cameron Lewis scans the cafeteria crowd.

Spirit of the Class of '95

Another Year, A New Beginning

The freshmen have accepted the challenge of starting a year full of new experiences and surroundings. They have been very active in both academics and sports. Many freshmen players contributed to a successful J.V. football season and many were involved in various S.C.A. activities.

The Homecoming parade and the Christmas family project were also two of the many events in which they participated. Their float, "Trunk full of Memories '95," showed activities that the freshmen will encounter throughout high school. The Christmas project was a successful venture that provided food, clothes, and other items for those who are less fortunate. Overall the freshmen have made great contributions during their first year at Courtland High.

Business, Practical Arts, and Fine Arts teachers were asked to respond to this question, and they were interested in helping the students to develop their skills. Mrs. Maupin "enjoy[s] getting to know the students on a personal level. It always gives [her] pleasure to be able to see them acquire a skill like sewing." While Dr. Groppe enjoys "helping students gain their skills and knowledge applicable to their careers."

English teachers were asked this question and they responded with varying opinions. Mrs. Pitts answered that she liked The Grapes of Wrath because "unlike a lot of literature it doesn't have a happy ending. It's not predictable." Mrs. Mann replied that she enjoyed "When Lilacs Last in the Dooryard Bloom'd" because "[i]t is a truly beautiful poem of poetic reconciliation of feelings of death." Dr. Walker chose " Hamlet because it dramatizes the tragedy of mind: what happens when you think too much." "I most like Homer's Illiad, the work on which so much Western literature is based," was Mrs. Jones' reply. Mrs. Sjurseth added that she enjoys reading The Prophet by Kahlil Gibran because she "like[s] what Gibran says about life-how to live it and love-how to share it. [She] especially like[s] what he says about teaching: '[t]he teacher...gives not of his wisdom but rather of his faith and his lovingness.'" Mrs. Hagenlocker chose East of Eden by John Steinbeck because "[h]is style is simple, description incomparable, characterization credible, theme universal, and his story is cleverly woven and carefully told." All teachers enjoy a variety of different poems and stories, and they all have a different view of each of those choices.

If You Could Choose, To What Period In History Would You Like To Return?

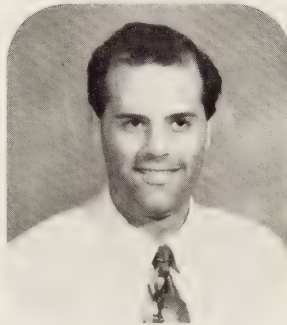

Mrs. Harrell replied, "I would very much enjoy the Victorian Era...I think the time of high collars, lace and pretty things...is a romantic era. I also like it because chivalry was very much alive." Mrs. Fuller adds that she would like to travel back to the First Century A.D. because "Rome was at its height. [She] admire[s] the Romans and their contribution to our current lifestyles." Mrs. Pomykala would like to revisit the U.S. during the Gilded Age (late 1800s) to the "urban centers of the northeast-experiencing the vast new changes in our new 'modern' society."

If You Could Invent Something That Would Make the World a Better Place What Would It Be?

Math and science teachers responded to this question with Earth saving and peace hopeful ideas. Mrs. Beegle stated that she would produce a "non-polluting, cheap source of energy to power our homes, industries, and means of transportation." Ken Reece added that he would like to invent "an ozone producing machine." Although some would like to save the world through science, others are interested in saving the world with love and understanding. Mrs. Aleo commented that she would invent a "machine that... would cause everyone to love and understand each person on the earth regardless of country, color, race, ethnic background, or wealth status. And Mr. Skinner would invent "a Universal Translator which would...prevent misunderstandings between people whether they be parent-child, boy-girl, teacher-student, or heads of states."

What sports figure
do you most admire
and why?

When physical education teachers were asked this question, their answers were surprising. Mr Swaim stated, "I admire Jim Abbott (baseball player) because he pitches for a major league team and has only one hand." Mr. Brown answered, "Joe Gibbs (football coach) because he's the best in the business." And Mrs. Frame added that she admires "The Babe" (Babe Dittrickson, golfer). Mrs. Frame admires her "because of her stamina." Whether in the news now or not, all sports figures are admired by someone.

October 19, 1991, was the anxiously anticipated evening of the Homecoming Dance. Spirits were already high as a result of the 19-7 Cougar defeat of Louisa in Homecoming football game held the previous night. The dance was held in the cafeteria which was decorated with balloons, streamers, and flowers. Refreshments were also provided. Once at Courtland, ladies compared dresses while the guys talked about sports and how much they paid for dinner. The evening involved mostly slow dancing, but there were occasional fast dances as well. The music included pop, rock, rap, and even a little country. When the time came to present the Homecoming Court, all the candidates nervously awaited the results. Chosen Homecoming King and Queen were David Allen and Carla Lett. Thanks are extended to the SCA and everyone else who helped to make this a very memorable event.

Each year there is a Battlefield District Competition for high school Drama Departments to perform one-act plays. This year the competition took place at Chancellor High School on November 16, 1991. Courtland took third place in this competition with its performance of "Why Do We Laugh?".

The play takes place in the home of the deceased Andrew and Meredith Powers, where Jason and Mary Powers are preparing to auction off their grandparents' belongings. While going through a trunk, Jason finds a photo album and starts to flip through the pages of his grandparents' lives. As this happens, the audience sees the events unfold on stage. These include Andrew and Meredith's experiences at age eight, sixteen, forty, and sixty-five. After learning their grandparents' life history, they decide that the trunk full of memories should be kept.

Left: Jennifer Gorham and Jason Burton, acting as the grandchildren of the Powers, reminisce about their grandparents' lives.

Above: After writing a love poem to Meredith Wilfred, played by Charlotte Walsh, Andrew Powers, age 16, (played by Jon Phillip) becomes embarrassed and hurries away to get the phone.

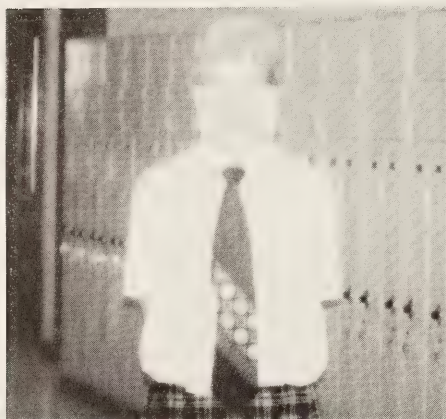

Cougars Possessed By the Spirit of Halloween

Halloween 1991

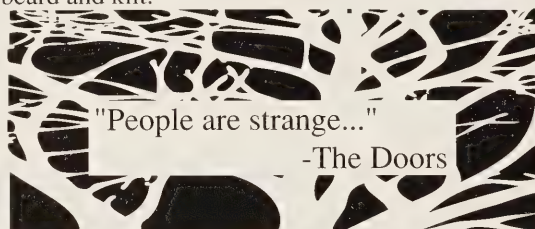

Every year in late October something strange happens to the students and faculty of Courtland High School. Halloween arrives--bringing with it originality from students and faculty alike. The individuality of these people revealed itself in some unique, scary, and sometimes peculiar ways. There were many participants in this year's dress-up day, with costumes ranging from a Southern belle to a Redskin Hogette. Overall everyone enjoyed this break from the normal routine.

A group of costumed Cougars await the judges' results. Judging was done by members of the S.C.A and was held during the lunch shifts.

Left: Luke Breivik tried his best to imitate his idol--Mr. Kotulka. His costume came complete with beard and kilt.

Right: Miss Mahoney used the influence of her drum major's uniform to guard the entrance to the lunch line.

Our faithful and enthusiastic cafeteria staff participated in the festivities once again this year with some very original costumes.

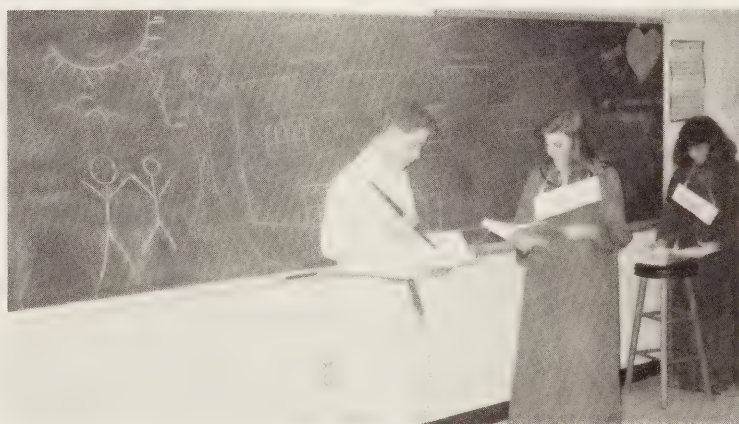

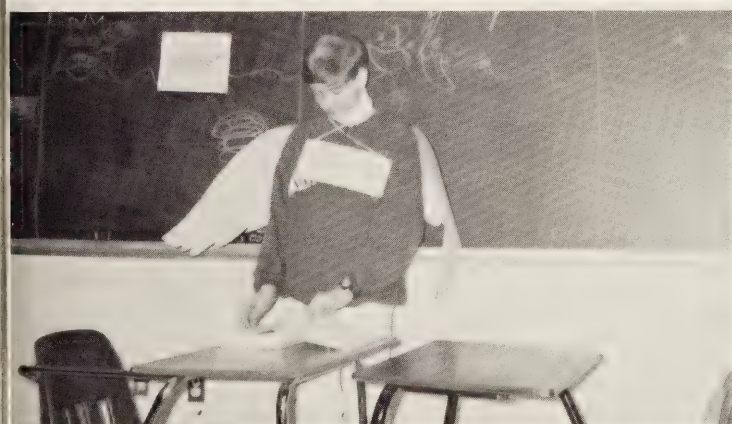

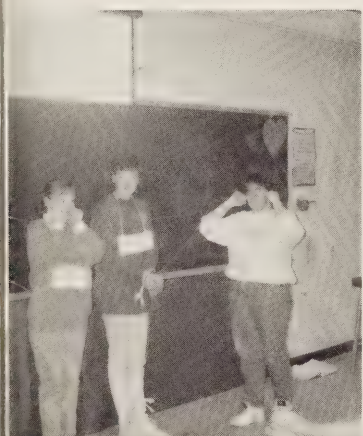

Kim Cooke waited anxiously for the judges' decision while others stood by patiently.

Freshmen Journey Into The Odyssey

For the ninth grade English classes of Mrs. Driest, literature becomes a world of imagination and fun. They took The Odyssey, a Greek epic by Homer and performed it during class. The epic had to do with the adventures of Odysseus in the land of Iliad and all of the perils of trying to return home to his wife Penelope. The classes enjoyed acting out the play which enabled many to show off their knowledge of drama and Greek Mythology.

M. Powell acts as a Siren to lure the men to their deaths on the rocks, by singing its enchanting music.

Ryan Goodrich, Lisa Strong, and Marsha Garland read their lines in front of the class.

Valentine's Day Dance 1992

Right: James Thompson and Ryan Newell talk with Mr. Stack as Joel Bencs, Michael Kay, and John Snyder exchange jokes in the background.

Below: Bianca Freeman and Ryan Goodrich were named Mr. and Ms. Irresistible after collecting the most ribbons from the opposite sex.

"Forever My Lady"

On February 8, 1992, Courtland held its first annual semi-formal Valentine's Day Dance. At the dance Mr. and Ms. Irresistible for 1992, Ryan Goodrich and Bianca Freeman, were introduced. Music provided by Go and in-riety rang-Bell Biv DeVoe to The Righteous Brothers. A "heart-felt" thanks is extended to those who made the romantic evening possible.

The chair persons of the Valentine's Dance were Jennifer Dickerson, Kristy Jett, Jennifer Wynder, and Jennifer Monteith. They were successful in making the dance enjoyable to all who attended.

Dancing to the Beat of the Heart

Left: Holding each other close, Michelle Boggs and date know the true meaning of having someone special.

What's Happening at Courtland?

The true reason for us coming to Courtland day in and day out is nothing but to obtain an education. Just as in sports, some students excel in academics. Every year Courtland acknowledges this dedication and the achievements made by these students. Academic letters are awarded to all-around students who achieve an outstanding grade average on their subjects.

These awards are given to help these students understand we are all proud of their attitude and hard work. We hope this recognition will encourage them to achieve higher goals and propel them into a better and happier life. Good luck and may you find what you are searching for.

At Courtland, History and English classes are definitely not boring. Mr. Walker and Mr. Miller teach a two-period class entitled Inner Disciplinary History and English. In the class history and literature of the time period are taught at the same time. In conjunction with the lesson on The Red Badge of Courage the teachers borrowed Civil War uniforms to show the dress and equipment of the soldier. The English classes sponsored a trip to Maryland for seniors to attend the Renaissance Festival. The students had a great time watching the many performances and seeing what life was like in the era.

The 1991 Spring Soccer season was filled with highlights for Cougar players and fans alike. The team finished with a record of ten wins and five losses. The Cougars suffered two of those losses to district foes early in the season, but recuperated with a third place showing in a mid-season tournament held at Loriella Park. The Cougars defeated strong teams from Charlottesville and Tabb, losing only to the tournament winning Osbourne Eagles. The team finished the season with an exciting clutch victory over Culpeper which placed them third in the Battlefield district.

The varsity softball team struggled a lot this season due to very tough competition. The Cougars did collect exciting victories against James Monroe 19-7, Caroline 19-8, and Spotsylvania 11-7. Melissa Rinker was starting pitcher throughout the year and Tracy Hawthorne was the starting catcher. Jenny Hicks received the most valuable player award from Mr. Swaim for her excellent hitting and fielding abilities. Melissa Bowling also received the coach's award for her hustle on the field and her character off the field.

Though Courtland's 1991 baseball team was relatively inexperienced, with only four returning seniors, the team surprised a lot of critics with wins over tough teams such as Chancellor and Orange. Several team members also set or tied school records. Speedster Joe Veloz set a record of twenty-three stolen bases. Lee Beach and Scotty Deane each set batting records; Beach hit five triples and Deane tied the school record of three home-runs. Chris Stacy set a school record with sixteen pitching appearances and although his numerous appearances showed Coach Holcomb's confidence in Stacy, they were also a symptom of a lack of depth in the bull-pen.

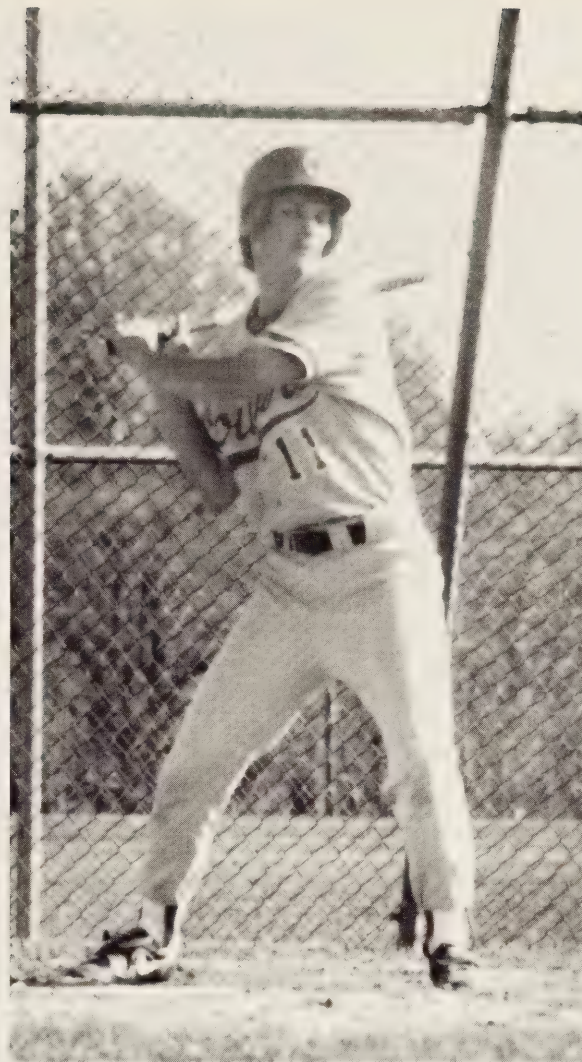

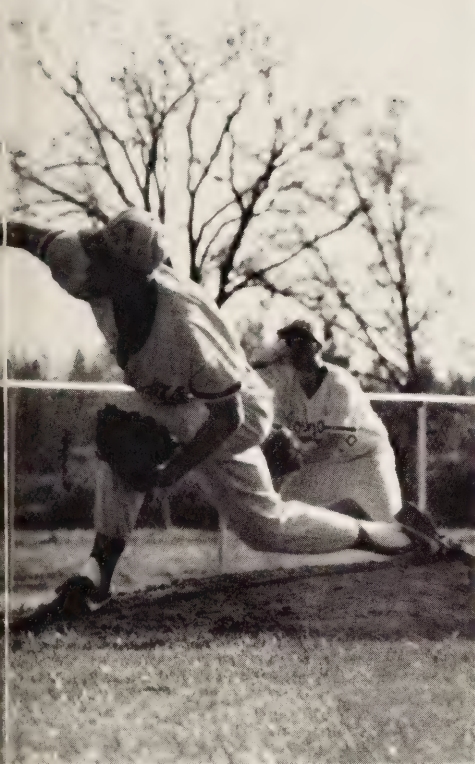

With three losses by one run, the team almost made the playoffs. Their 8-8 record overall in the district was good enough, however, for a fifth place finish. As the youngest team in Courtland's baseball history, the Cougars look forward to a powerful 1992 season.

Though most of their team performances in dual meets were shaky, the boy's track team took many by surprise at the Chancellor Classic. The boys placed an impressive second, beating out thirteen AA and AAA schools. In the words of one Free-Lance Star reporter, "like the Phoenix, the Cougars rose from the ashes to meet the challenge." At Districts and Regionals, Timmy Marshall, Mike Boucher, and Brek Hall placed in the 400 m run, high jump, and 110 m hurdles, respectively. These three, along with Travis Lucas, also qualified for the State meet in the mile relay. Brek Hall went on to become the AA state champion in the 300 m hurdles.

high jump, 400, and mile relay. In the distance events Tina took 5th in the 800. Janis received 5th in the mile and 3rd in the 2 mile. Nicole had an excellent season; after attending Regionals with Meloney and Janis, she advanced to the state meet to secure 6th in the 100 hurdles.

Courtland Cougars had a very good year this year. They practiced long and fought hard throughout the season in order to achieve victory in the playoffs. This victory was won with determination, hard work, and the coaching ability of Ken Brown, Paul Neal, Rick Holcomb, and Larry Kidd. Coach Ken Brown stated that he thought that the Cougars were "great! They exceeded expectations!" The Cougars' record for the season was 7-3. Though there were some losses, the Courtland Cougar Football team remained tough and very hard to beat throughout the season. Way to go Cougars!

Varsity Coach: Michele Boehm

Michele Boehm, a spanish teacher here at Courtland, was the coach of the varsity cheerleaders and did excellent job . She lead the cheerleaders to excel in cheering. Unfortunately, this was the last year that the Courtland Cougar cheerleading squads would learn and perrform under the coaching expertise of Michele Boehm. She will be greatly missed by students, faculty, and cheerleaders.

Junior Varsity Coach: Lori Stover

Lori Stover, a math teacher at Courtland, coached the junior varsity cheerleading squad for the second year. Ms. Stover has worked for many long, hard hours with the junior varsity cheerleaders to help them perfect their abilities. Most of the junior varsity cheerleaders were freshman and new to the squad; however, this did not stop them from proving themselves equal to those who had cheered before.

Cross-country is a sport that relies heavily on endurance, as well as a positive mind set. This combination is often hard to achieve. Occasionally during practice the team members began to feel like Energizer bunnies—four miles and still going! However, they stuck with it, battling through the heat of the late summer days. This is not to say that the season was one of all toil and sweat. They, of course, had their share of laughs and good times too.

UP TO PAR

This year the Courtland Golf team had an unusually large turnout; the team consisted of eleven members. Mr. Hibbs, who was assistant coach to last year's team, served as head coach this year. The lowest averages were Jason Self-41, Tim Welsh-45, Steve Cassiday-46, and Kenny Collier-47. Sophomore Jason Self qualified for the regional match with his seventh place finish at Districts. He then became the Virginia Region II Champion. The team finished with a record of 6-6 in the district and 6-7 overall.

Courtland had an exciting, but in some ways heart-breaking, season this year. Although tough competitors, the Cougars lost eight games by three points or less. An especially tough loss came against Spotsy when, during the second game of the season, the Knights hit a three pointer at the buzzer to Cougars loss, beating twenty their gym season. Another highlight was the victory over Chancellor (74-55).

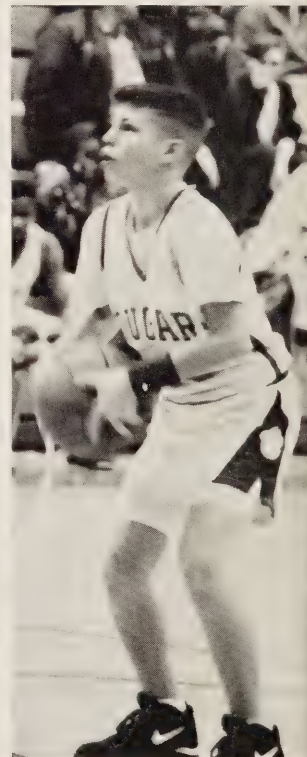

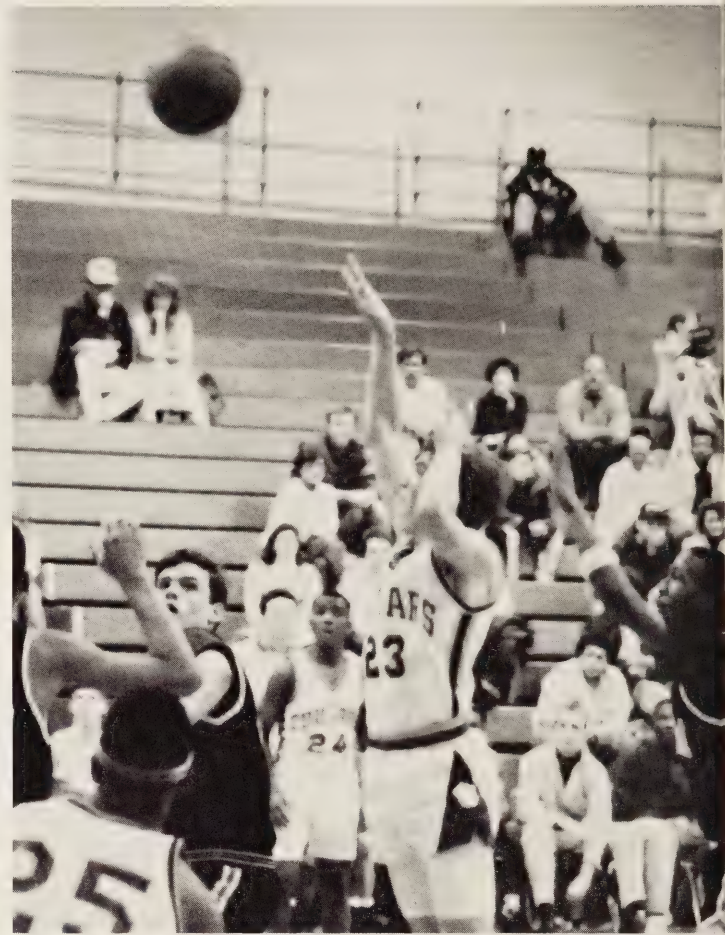

Courtland has a relatively young team with only two returning seniors, Neil Pifer and Joe Bartholomew. Three of the Cougars, Spanky Jones, Peejay Mack, and senior Joe Bartholomew, made the Honorable Mention All-District team. The coaches look forward to a bright season next year.

The Courtland Junior Varsity team had a good season. Despite a few losses, they played hard. They improved greatly the second half of the year, at one point winning six games in a row. They ended the season with a record of nine wins and nine losses.

There were many standouts because everyone put in their best effort to win the games. The leading scorers were Montez Thompson scoring 7.5 points per game, and Joey Harrison scoring 5.2 points per game. The defensive standouts were Torin Rollins, and Demetrius Smith, who drew five charges in one game.

SPRINGING IN

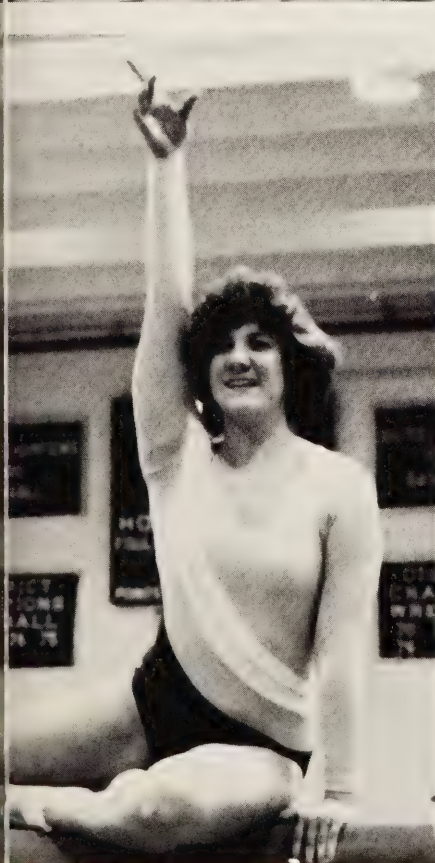

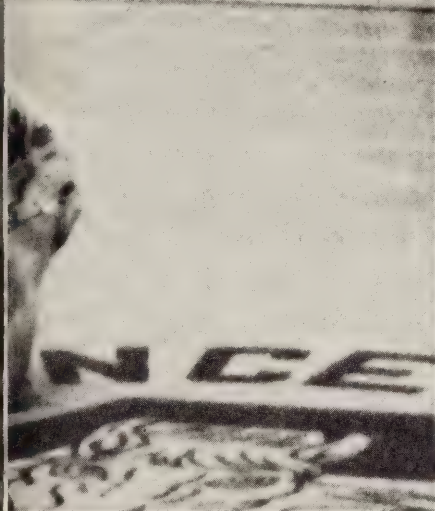

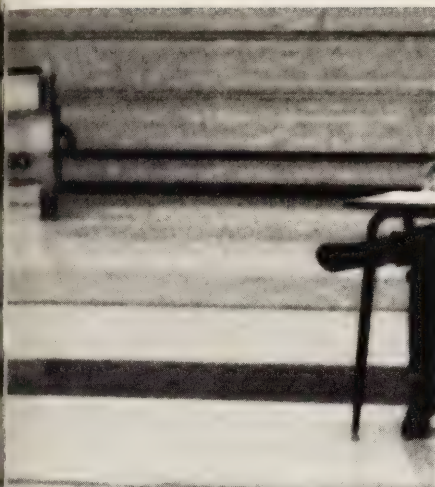

The Courtland Gymnastics team had an excellent season this year. They placed second at the Harrisonburg Invitational. At the district meet Shannon Atkinson and Courtney Givens both placed in three events as well as the all-around gymnast competition. The team score ranked the team second and advanced Courtland to Regionals. There the Lady Cougars again claimed second place. They beat Chancellor, who won in the dual meet between the schools and were only surpassed by the AAA school Broad Run. Shannon and Courtney each placed in two events and the all-around. In addition, Courtney Boiler finished with a sixth place standing in the beam competition. Despite these second place finishes Courtland Gymnastics is still tops!

He had the fastest pin on the team with a time of just thirteen seconds. He went to Districts, Regionals, and then on to State.

Definitely A Contact Sport

Wrestling is different from most other sports in that fierce bodily contact is not only allowed, but encouraged. In basketball too much contact will result in a free foul shot for the opposing team. In baseball a warning is received when you foul someone. In wrestling you are taught to use bodily contact.

Even though you are a member of a team when match-time arrives you are all alone. There are no words of guidance to lead you into your next move. There is only you, your drive to win, and your opponent, who seems never to give up. Your own decisions determine outcome.

Our Wrestling Team ended the season with a record of 5-7. Five members of our team went to the Districts. Brian Shawaryn advanced to Regionals where he took 2nd place. Then he went on to the State meet where he won 4th place.

Though track meets are run against other teams, often an athlete's biggest competition is the clock. The clock represents a goal the runner is striving to achieve a qualifying time, or a personal record he or she wants to break. For most of this year's indoor track team the first case probably applied. Most of Courtland's members were freshmen or first time runners. However, there were several veteran athletes including seniors Mike Michadick, Tina Ball, Mike Boucher, and Tracy Johnson and juniors Timmy Marshall, Travis Lucas, and Apollo Williams. The team was coached by former Courtland student Brian McRory, who had to leave part way through the season to continue his studies at ODU, and Battlefield Intermediate teacher Mr. Woody.

Chemistry-The World Of Experimentation

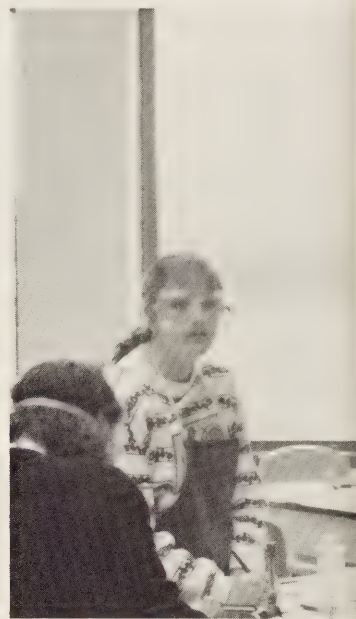

While studying chemical reactions and their types, Mr. Killian's advanced chemistry classes experimented with them. After mixing copper sulfate and zinc metal, Mr. Killian asks whether or not a reaction has taken place.

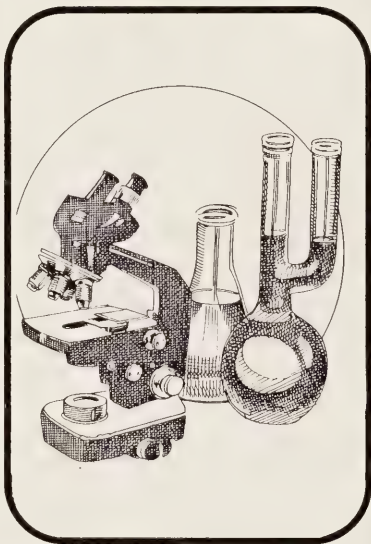

After performing all the experiments related to chemical reactions, Joon Byun, Misty Machotka, and JoJo Markley work on a reasoning for the identification of chemicals by their reaction.

During a lab, Nicole Rose watches with awe at a chemical reaction that occurs at another table.

Hannah Brittain sports off the trendy clothes all chemists have to wear; the infamous goggles and lab apron.

After watching an experiment, Brad Beach, David Glover, Tim Welsh, and Steven Keller discuss what the reaction resulted in.

Heather Labelle and Erica Hawthorne glance at the burning strip of magnesium ribbon, which when placed in the flame of a burner produces a bright light.

TAKE IT FROM THE TOP

Top center: The members of the Royal Brigade march to the field in their new uniforms. In order to purchase these uniforms they participated in several fundraisers, including car washes and Tag Day. Bottom center: Billy Rulapaugh and Bob Moore anxiously await the cue to begin the fight song. Right: April Raines practices for the half-time show which was coreographed to songs from the box office hit Robin Hood.

Band Officers

Standing: Luke Powell, Craig Doucette, Billy Rulapaugh, Nathan Newbrough. Kneeling: Kim Ketcham, Clarissa Albo, Jennifer Yates, and Niki Taylor.

Q

Do you feel that the student body recognizes the amount of time and effort that the Royal Brigade puts into performances and the contribution that the band makes to school spirit?

A

No, many people complain that we don't perform enough new songs. I don't think they realize the amount of time involved. Beginning in August, we practice several hours a day in the heat to learn the music and our corresponding field coordinates.

Congratulations Bug! You made it! As far as I'm concerned, you live your life by the "set of the sails"--with the strength and determination to turn any obstacle into a mere challenge. You are now, and always will be, a success at anything you do--Don't ever doubt it. I am very proud of my little "bug!"

DECA

William Rulapaugh and Nathan Newbrough

DECA's State Leadership Conference was held in Richmond the weekend of March 6-8th. Courtland DECA was represented by William Rulapaugh and Nathan Newbrough in the Marketing Management Contest. It was divided into two parts. The first was a case study on a fictional company called McCloud and Miller. The students had to research and are of Virginia (Suffolk) and design a plan of action for the company to operate profitably in that area. The team had to present their analysis to the Board of Directors. Nathan and William felt the presentation was the best part of the contest. Nathan enjoyed creating the advertising for their presentation. Next the team did a spontaneous simulation exercise on analyzing before unseen financial reports for a company. William felt the exercise was "hard and challenging." William and Nathan felt this contest was challenging and fun. The Team members devoted about 30 hours towards the contest but felt they would do it again in a heartbeat. Nathan and William feel this was a wonderful exercise in preparing them for college. The contest increased their "confidence and awareness of the expectations that will be placed on us in the future." The most rewarding moment for the team came at the awards ceremony. The team placed 3rd in the spontaneous event and 2nd in the Long Term Presentation, with a 1st place overall in the Marketing Management Contest.
